

The Clinical Research Payment Network (CRPN) was founded to offer financial services to support and serve our clinical site partners. Our mission ensures our site partners have what they need when they need it to foster an optimal research environment.

Financial Solutions CRPN offers its site partners and sponsor members financial solutions that speak the language of healthcare. We strive to offer our network fast and efficient clinical site financial systems that save industry resources and expedite quality translational research.

Networking We provide our site partners with everything they need to perform successful clinical research. As a network who caters to site partners and sponsor members, CRPN creates a perfect networking opportunity to bring sites viable trial opportunities and sponsors high performing and qualified clinical sites.

Accountability CRPN's PACT score, the industry's first metric to assess the risk of working with specific sponsors and CROs, offers site partners access to the information they need to make informed business decisions. Sponsor members have a transparent understanding of how sites perceive their business practices and an opportunity to measure and improve their site relationships.

Education Our Good Clinical Business Practice (GCBP) is the industry's first training designed to communicate the standards and expectations required to perform business practices between sites and sponsors/CROs. Sites can learn the industry's acceptable business practices. Sponsors, if trained routinely, will proactively demonstrate a dedication to site partnerships and therefore experience better negotiated rates.

Contact CRPN

Daniel J. Fox, MPH, PhD
Founder/CEO
Clinical Research Payment Network
www.crpynet.com
dr.fox@crpynet.com